

Laguna Beach Live! appreciates the $3500 grant from the Festival of Arts Foundation. Since the start of the pandemic, when indoor concerts and classes were prohibited, they have continued to bring the joy of music in unique ways: a free zoom class for Seniors with chamber music rising stars; free live streaming Beth's Tuesdays, a singer-songwriter showcase; prerecorded musicians at the Laguna Art Museum for free access any time and recorded a fun educational segment on the different instruments for students and adults; presented musicians at the Promenade last summer (free); live streamed free 7 jazz sessions; and, had two ticketed Drive in concerts.

As caution continues in the 2021-22 year, Laguna Live! is presenting two concerts at the Festival of Arts grounds (free) and have agreed to bring musicians back to the Promenade. They plan to continue some of their new endeavors and make room for people to enjoy them in person as well as live streaming and/or zooming. The plan is to have an indoor concert in September and then resume their indoor cabaret jazz and benefit concerts in January. They continue to reach out to the Boys and Girls Club and the schools.
